

Evolution at work: Michael Schmid Symposium

Thursday, August 21, 2008, 2pm-6:30pm
Hörsaal A102, Biozentrum am Hubland, 97074 Würzburg

2pm	Holger Hoehn Biocenter, University of Würzburg	Welcome and Introduction
2:15 – 3:00 pm	Blair Hedges Pennsylvania State University, University Park, PA, USA	Eukaryotic evolution and the rise of complex multicellular life
3:00 – 3:45 pm	Jim P. Bogart University of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario, Canada	Nuclear gene genealogy: a powerful tool for the dissection of evolution
3:45- 4:15	Coffee break
4:15 – 5:00 pm	David Burt Roslin Institute, Edinburgh, Scotland	Avian genomics in the 21 st century
5:00 – 5:30 pm	Manfred Scharl Biocenter, University of Würzburg, Germany	Sex, speciation, and longevity: a fishy tale
5:30 – 6:00 pm	Werner Schempp University of Freiburg, Freiburg, Germany	Evolution and future, if any, of the human Y chromosome

Free of charge – Guests and Students welcome